Chair and Chief Executive's report

Tēnā koutou katoa – greetings to you all.

We are pleased to present the annual report of the Wellington Community Fund (formally Wellington Community Trust) for the year ended 31 March 2022.

It has been another year of uncertainty as we saw the ongoing impacts of Covid-19 felt by many. While it has been a testing time, it certainly has been a privilege to see the incredible resilience and the very best of our communities shine through. Wellington Community Fund exists for the communities we serve, and our purpose will always be strongly connected to enabling the diverse communities of Te Upoko o te Ika (wider Wellington region) to thrive. We were humbled to play a small role in enabling many types of initiatives/projects to happen through our funding support.

Our granting

We implemented our new strategy which has a strong focus on what we call our 'equity lens'. The equity lens means we prioritise funding support to initiatives/projects that support equity and inclusion in our communities. Equity to us means people have what they need to survive and succeed – access to opportunity, resources, networks, and supports, that enable them to thrive. Inclusion to us means everyone can participate in activities and opportunities that are meaningful for them.

This year our trustees and team approved grants totalling just over $3.5 million.

He Rau Aroha

We saw the evolution of He Rau Aroha this year with the formal establishment of Te Ohu Manaaki, our whakapapa Māori board committee responsible for managing He Rau Aroha. He Rau Aroha is a framework and fund developed to advance Māori aspirations for Mana Whenua and Taura Here in our region. It was always meant to be about so much more than simply pūtea/funding and this year we have seen the ripples of this wider purpose across our work. We are seeing the continued development and strengthening of relationships with Mana Whenua, embedding a long term view that supports intergenerational aspirations of Māori in our region. We have enhanced our governance and operational commitments to Te Tiriti o Waitangi and are increasing our understanding of our role as allies and partners.

Climate Action

We continued to bolster our support for climate action this year, not only through our multi year Climate Action Fund commitment but also with the establishment of Climate Action Aotearoa: Funders Commitment on Climate Action. In recognition of the important role community funders play in building better outcomes for our environment and communities we established and signed up to the Funders Commitment on Climate Action. This commitment is the initial result from the formation of a Climate Action Working Group established by the Community Trusts' Chief Executives with support from The Centre for Social Impact.

The working group aims to explore ways to work together on climate change issues, including how to support a just transition to a net zero world. You can find out more about the commitment here: www.climateactionaotearoa.co.nz

Gratitude

We feel immensely privileged and grateful to be working with a wonderful team of dedicated staff and Trustees here at Wellington Community Fund. Despite the challenges of this year, the team has demonstrated incredible commitment to our work and to the communities we serve. However, the biggest acknowledgement must go to the committed community partners we work with. Thank you for the work you do tirelessly, with great passion and personal commitment to support communities across Te Upoko o te Ika (Wellington region) to thrive.

After four years as Chair, Roger has decided to step down as Chair and will continue on as a Trustee. A huge thank you to Roger for so capably leading Wellington Community Fund over the last four years. We are delighted to welcome Mele Wendt as our new Chair. Mele has been a Trustee with us for four years and brings 25 years of governance experience to this role. Mele is an awarded Member of the New Zealand Order of Merit (MNZM) for her services to governance, the Pacific community, and women.

Annual investment review

The year in review

At the 2021 AGM, held in October last year, we reported to you that our investment portfolio was in a healthy position to withstand market volatility. We were cautious about the future however and specifically noted that interest rates were about to start rising after years of monetary policy designed to mitigate the economic effects of the Global Financial Crisis (GFC) and Covid-19. Our caution proved to be well-founded. Inflation has risen as have interest rates and there are other critical issues for markets to consider such as food security, supply chain uncertainty and inflation. The Ukraine situation and Covid-19 lurk behind these all these issues.

In times such as these, investors become more uncertain, and risk aversion increases, resulting in sometimes extreme volatility and declines in portfolio balances. That was the case with our portfolio in the last quarter of the year and in the year-to-date. However, because of our caution, we retained substantial reserves above the real capital value of our initial base capital, and a policy of holding two years' worth of spending in cash. This has allowed us to continue our granting program this year as budgeted. Looking ahead we are mindful that the NZ economy is in for tough times, inflation will still be with us, and our community will need more support, not less. Our current reserves give us confidence that we will be able to do so without affecting the real capital base. Looking ahead, history tells us that markets do recover, and as long-term investors, WCF is confident that the markets and therefore the portfolio value will eventually recover, as will our reserves.

Our relationship with our Investment Manager Forsyth Barr has strengthened. In addition to their financial expertise, our Board has full confidence in their ability to provide us with strong advice on our portfolio. Forsyth Barr plays an important role in providing training for all Trustees and is fully aligned with our Responsible Investment Policy. We are confident that we are getting high quality advice and support that is value for money. I wish to thank Seby Reeves for his work with us this year.

This was my final year as Convener of the Finance, Audit and Risk Committee. When I look back over the last four years and reflect on the changes and the speed at which we undertook them, and the market volatility we have worked through, the Committee members have much to be proud of. I welcome Ming-chun Wu to the role of Convener and I am confident that under her leadership the Committee will continue to provide the Board with the necessary support. I wish to thank and congratulate my fellow Trustees on the Finance, Audit and Risk Committee for their important contributions and support.

Funding strategy overview

In April 2021 we launched our new funding strategy; working towards our Vision: Thriving Communities Across the Wellington Region.

What is a funding strategy?

Our funding strategy is the way we decide how to give out grants. We know, from the research we commissioned, and from our own knowledge, that there are communities in our region that experience exclusion, inequality, and disadvantage; and we want to fund work that supports equity and inclusion in our communities.

What's changed?

Our funding has historically been spread across a broad cross-section of communities, initiatives, and events. Whilst we still offer our funding to many types of initiatives/projects, we are now doing this with the addition of what we call our 'equity lens'.

We also created more opportunity for strategic granting – such as larger grants, grants supporting collaborative relationships, and proactively seeking initiatives that align with our ambitions – as is the case with He Rau Aroha. He Rau Aroha is focussed on supporting Māori-led initiatives that specifically advance the aspirations of Mana Whenua, Taura Here, and other Māori groups in the Wellington region.

What's the equity lens?

The equity lens means we prioritise funding to initiatives/projects that support equity and inclusion in our communities.

- Equity to us means people have what they need to survive and succeed – access to opportunity, resources, networks, and supports, that enable them to thrive.
- Inclusion to us means everyone can participate in activities and opportunities that are meaningful for them.

Priority population groups and locations

Research indicates that the following populations and locations experience the most disadvantage and exclusion in the Wellington region. We prioritise applications that serve and are led by:

Members of these population groups:

- Māori
- Pacific peoples
- Middle Eastern, Latin American, African
- Youth and Children

People who are part of communities living in these locations:

- Ōtaki
- Lower Hutt
- Porirua

What we're doing to work towards realising our vision

We identified five key ambitions through which we hope to achieve our outcomes:

Wellington Community Fund 2021-25 strategy

OUR VISION:

Thriving communities across the Wellington region

OUR AMBITIONS:

Advance equity by supporting communities
experiencing the greatest inequity,
exclusion, and disadvantage

-  Support tino rangatiratanga of Mana Whenua and Taura Here, in our region
-  Support inclusion of communities that experience exclusion
-  Work with others to focus our resources where they'll have the biggest impact
-  Increase capability, and support community-led initiatives
-  Increase access, and reduce barriers, to funding.

Our ambitions this year (service performance)

AMBITION ONE

Support Tino rangatiratanga of Mana Whenua and Taura Here in our region

The primary expression of this ambition is He Rau Aroha. This year has seen a huge increase (+76%) in the number of Māori-led organisations we've established and strengthened relationships with.

We've established good working relationships with all Mana Whenua, who have either partnered with us or are active in submitting their tono (application).

The work of our Kaitakawaenga Māori, Whetū Campbell, supported by Te Ohu Manaaki (our committee made up of board members who whakapapa Māori) has been instrumental in achieving this progress. Whetū's proactive engagement and hands-on support throughout the application process has helped us to grant almost $900,000 through He Rau Aroha – funding to assist and advance Māori aspirations for Mana Whenua and Taura Here in the region.

An example of how we have supported Mana Whenua aspirations is Toi Taiao. Established by Te Rūnanga o Toa Rangatira, and funded through He Rau Aroha, Toi Taiao is a creative hub that supports Ngāti Toa artists, creative writers, and film makers to tell Ngāti Toa stories, archive historical documents/research, and is a whare taonga – under Toi Toa brand.

“The Toi Taiao kaupapa supported by Wellington Community Fund enabled activities at Hongoeka marae that engaged and strengthened mahi toi, connection to the taiao and relationships between tamariki, rangatahi, pakeke and kaumātua.

The Toi Taiao kaupapa has enabled the Ngāti Toa whānau of Hongoeka Marae to reconnect to their creative arts and natural environment through activities run and guided by Kaimahi toi, rongoā experts and kaumātua. These activities have been invaluable for the whānau and hapu of Hongoeka marae.”

~ Wiremu Grace, Pou Toi o Te Rūnanga o Ngāti Toa

AMBITION TWO

Support inclusion of communities that experience exclusion

98% of our grant spend has gone towards communities experiencing exclusion.

- 86% towards our priority community groups
- 12% towards other communities who also experience exclusion.

79% of our grant spend has gone to community groups in priority locations

We’ve seen significant grant spend increases across organisations who represent our priority communities, including:

- +16% for Pacific-led organisations
- +21% for Kaupapa-Māori organisations
- +15% for refugee or migrant-led organisations.

AMBITION THREE

Collaboration and co-funding is key to improving our impact with and for community. And this year we've actively worked with seven other funders, resulting in many collaborative/co-funded grants – including significant collaborative granting in Ōtaki – one of our priority locations.

AMBITION FOUR

🌟 Increase capability, and support community-led initiatives

We've seen an increase of 105% in community-led initiatives, strongly supporting our ambitions and outcomes around communities having meaningful representation and leadership.

We've continued to support increasing capability in the sector through almost $250,000 in LIFT grants this year. We also extended the eligibility to applications that support the sector (not just for a single organisation).

AMBITION FIVE

Increase access, and reduce barriers, to funding

We've seen a huge increase (+35%) in new organisations applying for funding – a great indicator of increased access, and successful proactive engagement. A majority of these first-time applicants are also new to funding in general – again reinforcing our increase in access to funding.

We carried through and further refined some of the simplifying measures we made with our application process as a response to Covid-19 and increased community need. We've received overwhelmingly positive feedback on the ease of the process. Our work in reducing barriers to funding has also been recognised by the sector, with WCF being spotlighted in a white paper published by Hui E! in March 2022.

SPOTLIGHT: Wellington Community Trust is reducing funding barriers for community organisations

Wellington Community Trust has been working to reduce funding barriers for community organisations. Practical changes they have made to their funding processes include:

- removing specific funding deadlines and 'rounds'. Applications are now assessed on a rolling basis. Decisions are made within four weeks for applications under $10,000 and eight weeks for applications between $10,000-$50,000
- streamlining application forms by removing redundant questions and simplifying language
- significantly reducing the application criteria during the initial COVID response, to focus on organisations serving communities most affected by COVID, and keeping the criteria as simple as possible ever since
- increasing flexibility around changing the criteria for grants already received and reporting timeframes.

Wellington Community Trust are using evidence-based research on the needs of their region to help them identify how and where to focus their funding. They've also been working alongside Hui E! Community Aotearoa's grant writing support programme to connect with organisations that align well with their priorities.

Our rebrand

As we've evolved our funding – especially with the launch of our updated strategy – it was clear that our logo and name weren't aligned with where we are today as a funder.

Name

The WCT name and logo design was created decades ago. The logo was visually not meeting current modern design standards; and the name was not quite fit for purpose for a few reasons – which were backed up by research we undertook with some of our community and iwi partners:

- The word 'Trust' isn't widely understood and can cause confusion about who we are, what we do, and where our money comes from.
- There has also been longstanding confusion between WCT and New Zealand Community Trust (a separate organisation which operates in a completely different way)

These key take outs from our research informed our decision to change our name to Wellington Community Fund. The words fund/funding/funder were consistently referenced when we asked our community partners to describe us; and therefore 'fund' seemed like the best word to describe us.

In addition to this name change, we have also introduced a bi-line: Te Upoko o Te Ika – the Māori name for the Wellington region. This helps to reinforce the fact our funding is for the wider Wellington region.

Logo

Our new logo represents the ebb and flow of tides giving life to all communities of Te Upoko o te Ika.

Funders commitment on climate action

Along with a majority of the Community Trusts of Aotearoa New Zealand, last year we signed a Funders Commitment on Climate Action, in recognition of the important role community funders play in building better outcomes for our environment and communities.

This commitment is the initial result from the formation of a Climate Action Working Group established by the Community Trusts' Chief Executives with support from The Centre for Social Impact.

The working group aims to explore ways to work together on climate change issues, including how to support a just transition to a net zero world. Community Trusts regularly collaborate on important issues. Individually and collectively, they have already undertaken significant work relating to climate change and net zero emissions.

A guiding whakataukī (proverb) highlights the importance of the collaborative effort:

Ki te kotahi te kākaho, ka whati; ki te kāpuia, e kore e whati.

If a reed stands alone, it can be broken; if it is in a group, it cannot.

When we stand alone, we are vulnerable, but together we are unbreakable.

~ Kingi Pōtatau Te Wherowhero Tāwhiao

Climate Action
Aotearoa
The Funders Commitment
on Climate Action.

The seven-part commitment is guided by Te Tiriti o Waitangi and mātaurangi Māori aspirations. It focuses on a just transition, collaboration, and leadership. Significantly, it includes reporting back to our communities and stakeholders the actions that signatories undertake.

“We see this as an opportunity to increase accountability, to support action for just transitions, greater equity, community resilience, and ultimately improve outcomes for the communities we serve. Taking collective action on climate issues makes sense. Climate action is community action, and we are stronger when we work together.”

~ Linn Araboglos, Chief Executive of Wellington Community Fund, who chairs the working group.

The commitment is designed to be a high-level document that other New Zealand philanthropic funders are encouraged to sign up to. To read the full commitment please visit: www.climateactionaotearoa.co.nz
